

I believe that XO Communications mislead investors with information regarding their economic health. My complaint is that common shareholders are bearing the financial burden for the corporate economic decisions, while those actually making those decisions are reaping benefit from this "restructuring." It seems to me that their restructuring has allowed this company to take the common shareholders investment dollars and restructure them out of any potential future profits.